GOBBO THOUGHTS

Why not jazz up your Orky banner poles or Chaos Space Marine trophy racks using Space Marine shoulder pads and helmets?

Why not convert an Imperial Missionary to lead your Empire Flagellant unit?

Why not use Legion of the Damned shoulder pads as Chaos Space Marine Veteran shoulder pads?

Why not try putting the Earthshaker cannon from an Imperial Basilisk kit into the observation post of your Imperial Command bunker?

LONG DISTANCE DEATH, CROSSBOWMEN KEEP YER ENEMIES SCARED

TO ARMS! (and legs)

The new Warhammer Regiments boxed sets provide a great source of excellent rank and file troops for your army. The addition of metal components give you an even greater number of possibilities, and when you start to introduce other bits and bobs the possibilities become endless. Check out these ideas we came up with by just gluing various bits from the Empire sprue to parts of other figures, and remember that there are plenty of other regiments to check out.

Did you love the Perry twins' Pikemen in White Dwarf 227, but aren't too sure you could manage the conversion? Well try these as an easy alternative. All you do is add the pike from one of the Dogs of War regiments to the Halberdier arms and just like that you've made some instant Empire Pikemen!

Get a regiment of 16 Pikemen consisting of an Empire regiment of your choice and 13 pikes for only $35.99.

Get enough pieces to make a unit of 8 mounted Swordsmen and 8 foot pistoliers for only $79.92.

Why not try combining the soldiers' torsos with pistolier legs to create mounted swordsmen? The leftover legs can be used with the torsos from the pistoliers or even Outriders to make great champions for Hand Gunner regiments or Empire heroes on foot!

DESE ARE JUST TWO EXAMPLES OF DA MANY TORSOS AVAILABLE. CALL DA TROLLS TA SEE WHAT DEY GOT!

MODELING SUPPLIES

Modeling putty, not enough can be said about how fantastically diverse this product is. All of us have become enamored with this material over the years. It's great on models even without conversions and it's important for multi-part kits to fill in gaps where the pieces don't quite fit properly. Ambitious modelers can even do some sculpting on models to add new detail to otherwise plain areas. You can modify the features on a model that you're using in a unit more than once to make each one unique. You can't call yourself a Citadel Miniature hobbyist unless you're using green putty to its fullest potential.

PIN VICE

The perfect tool for drilling tiny holes in your conversion projects. Modify your banner poles, solidify your multi-part kits...the pin vice is essential for experienced modelers.

These clippers are a bit better than knives and infinitely better than twisting for removing bits from sprues. They're also great for taking pieces off models when you're converting stuff.

Citadel Miniatures Figure Cases with Custom Foam Inserts

Have you ever packed up the army that you'd spent countless hours preparing for battle, gotten to the game table, and opened your case only to find mass destruction? Shields popped off, spears bent, riders knocked from their mounts, all sorts of problems caused by cases with foam that just wasn't designed to carry your delicate miniatures. Now your problem is solved, these cases were designed with figures in mind. No more arranging miniatures on uneven egg carton surfaces that squash your figures when the lid is closed, these cases are just what you need for safe transport.

As you can see from the picture on the left, these cases with the custom foam, are perfect for carrying miniatures of all shapes and sizes. Single troops fit just fine and with just a little modification with a modeling knife, cavalry figures fit just as well with no undue pressure on the delicate bits that may get damaged or snap off in other cases.

Each case holds up to 99 individual figures so travel space won't be a problem. Pick up some cases today and your troops can travel in style!
